

The mice and the iced buns

1

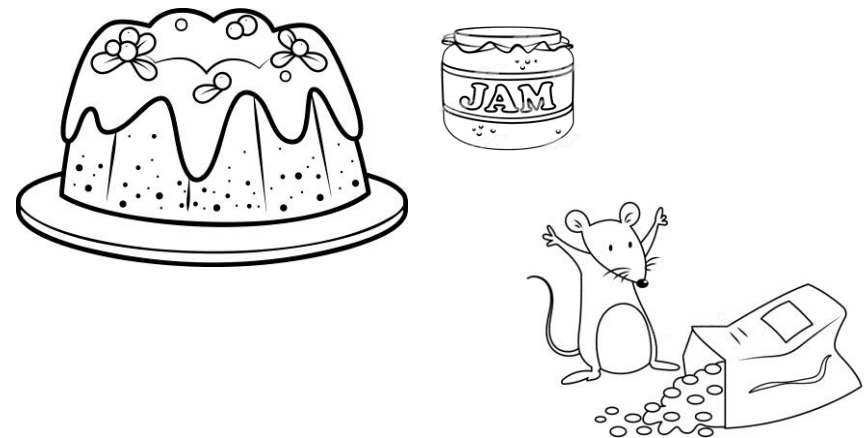

Once upon a time there lived two mice. They lived in a hole in the wall in a pantry.
(A pantry is the place where food is kept.)

2

At night the mice would come out of their hole and eat food.

3

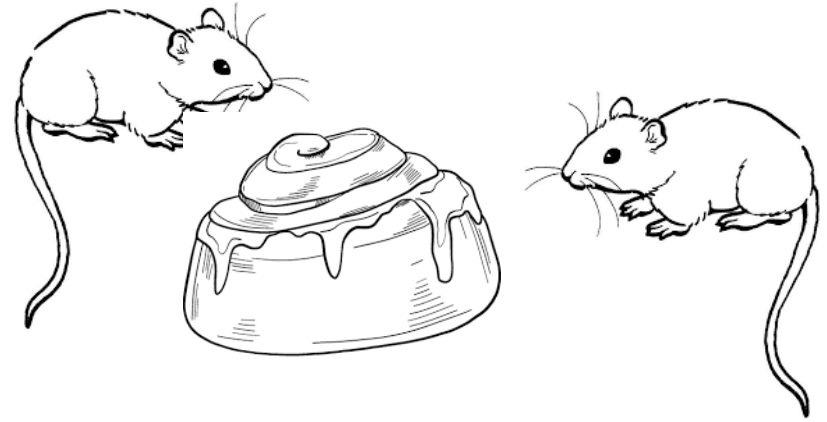

They could find cake, or jam, or rice.

4

One day some iced buns were left in the pantry. At night the mice came out.

5

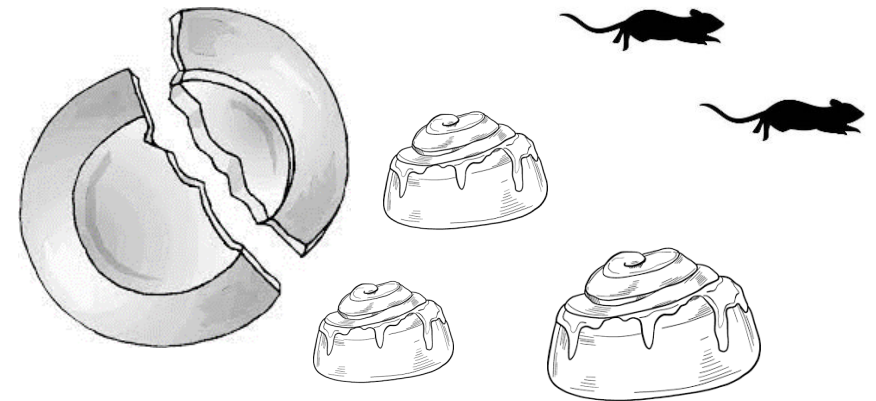

“These look very nice,” said the mice.

6

One of the mice pounced on the plate of iced buns. The icing was sticky and slippery.

7

Crash! The plate of buns fell down. The mice got a big fright. The buns were not so nice after all!
