

Let's look for dinosaur bones!

1

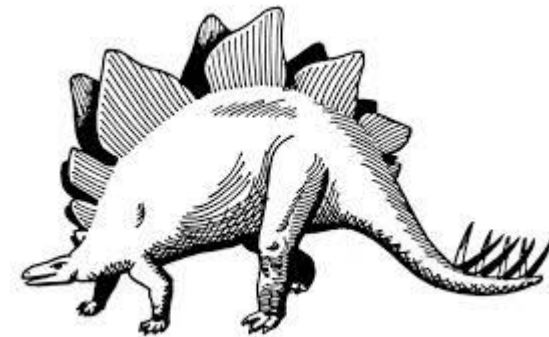

We could find bones of a Tyrannosaurus
Rex,
(Sounds like ty-ran-o-saw-us-rex)

2

or the bones of a Brachiosaurus,
(Sounds like brac-i-o-saw-rus.)

3 or the bones of a Stegasaurus.

(Sounds like steg-o-saw-rus.)

Level 11

4

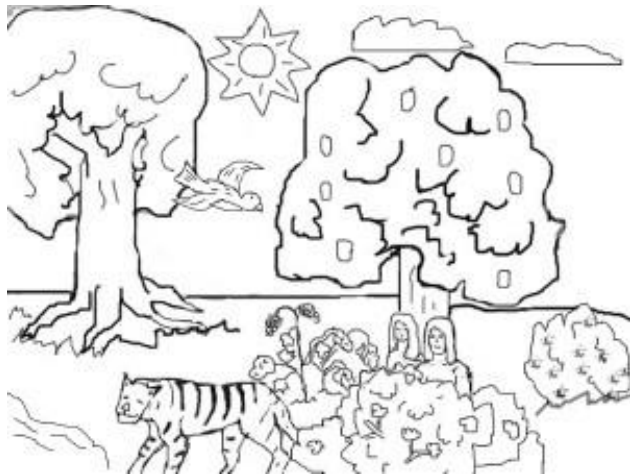

When God made the world, He made dinosaurs on day six.

5

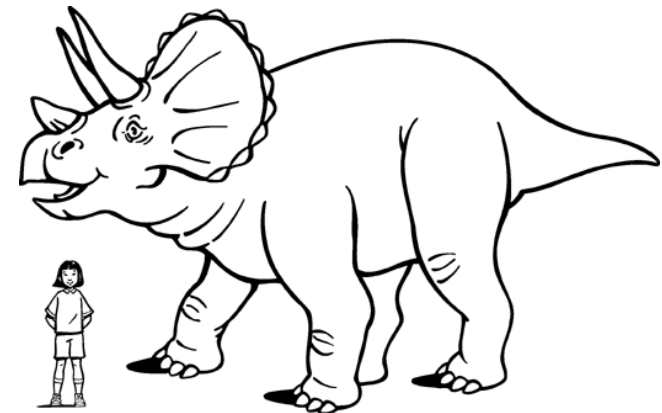

That was the on the same day that He made all the other animals and people.

6

That was just six thousand years ago.

7

Dinosaurs and people lived at the same time. But now dinosaurs are extinct.

Frog and Toad

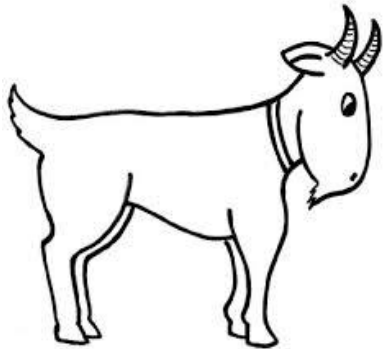

1

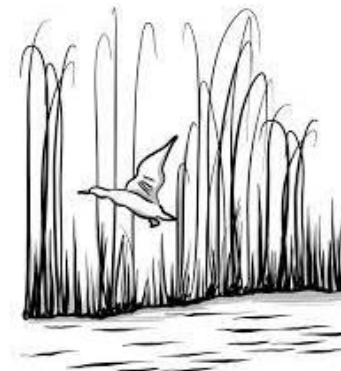

Toad said to Frog, "I am big. I am bigger than you.
I can hop over to that stone in one leap."

2

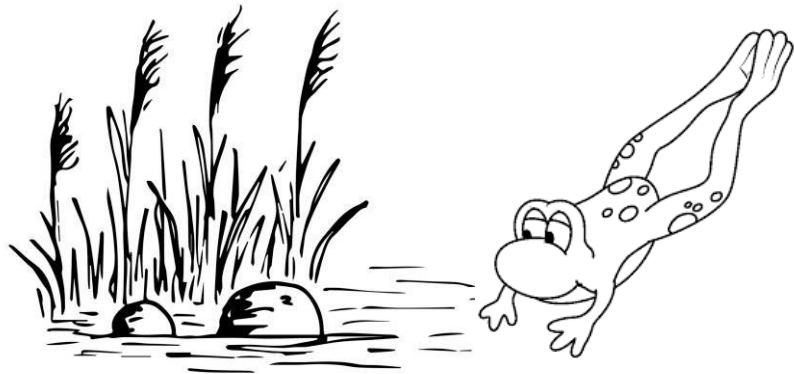

Frog said to Toad, "You may be bigger than me, but I can croak louder than you.
I can croak louder than a goat."

3

Toad said to Frog, "You may be able to croak louder than me, but I am better at catching insects than you. I can catch more insects than a bird."

4

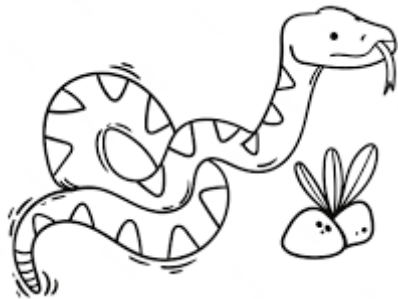

Frog said to Toad, "You may be able to catch more insects than me, but I can swim faster than you. I can swim around that stone and back in five seconds.

5

Toad said to Frog, "You may be able to swim faster than me, but I can sing better than you. I can sing all night long."

6

Along came snake. Toad said to snake, "Tell us, who do you think is the best?"

Snake said to Toad, "I think I am the best. I cannot hop or croak or sing, but I can swim faster than you both, and I can eat you both for lunch!"

7

As quick as a flash, Frog and Toad hopped into a hole in the river bank. That would be the last time they would ever ask a snake!

A goat in a boat

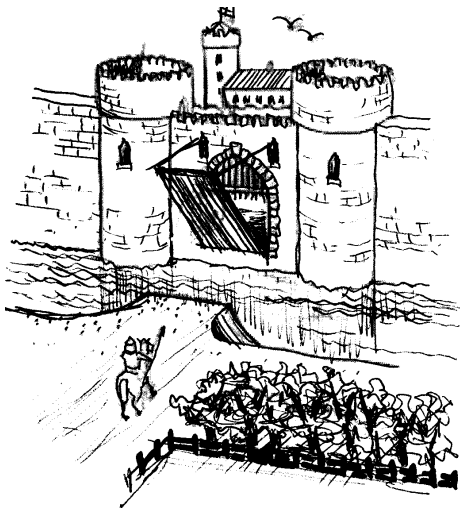

A story from England ... a long time ago

1

Sir Richard was a brave knight. He lived in a castle that had a moat around it.

2

When the bridge was up, the moat kept the enemies out.

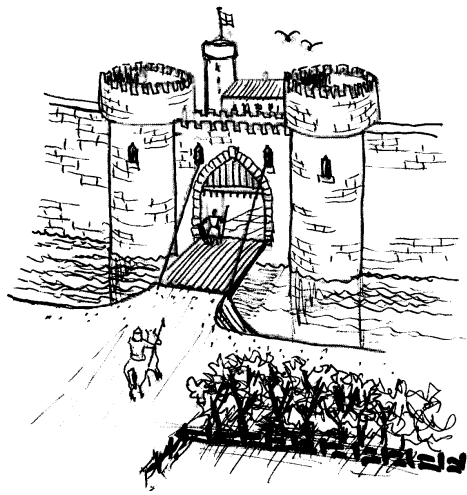

Level 11

3

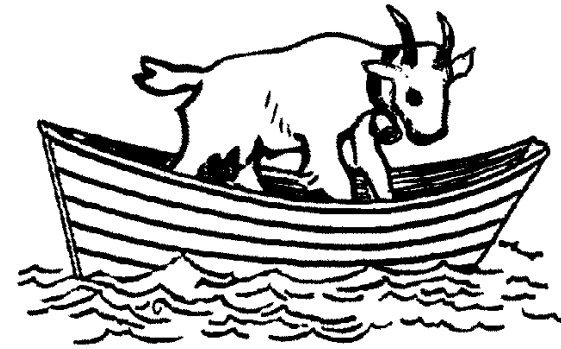

Sir Richard had a pet goat. He wanted to take the goat across the moat to the green grass on the other side.

4

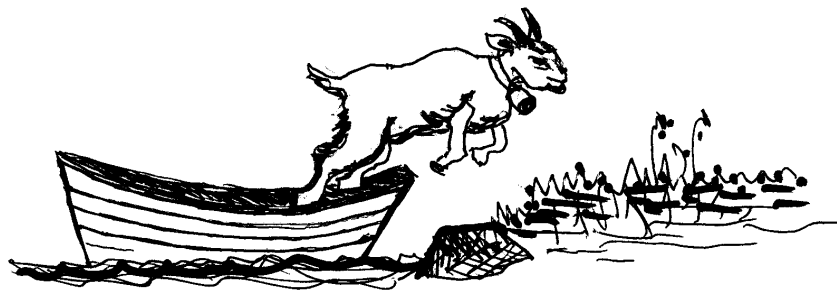

When the bridge was down, Sir Richard tried to take the goat across the bridge to the other side.

5

But the goat would not go. "I know," said Sir Richard, "I will put the goat in my boat and float across the moat."

6

The goat got into the boat. They went across the moat to the other side. The goat saw the green grass and jumped out of the boat.

7

It ran to eat the grass. But do you think Sir Richard could get the goat back in the boat?

Mrs. James and the Hot Cross Buns

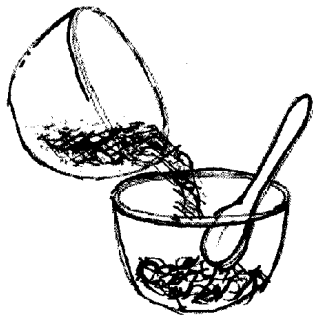

1

What is that smell? It smells like Hot Cross Buns. Mrs. James bakes the best Hot Cross Buns in town.

2

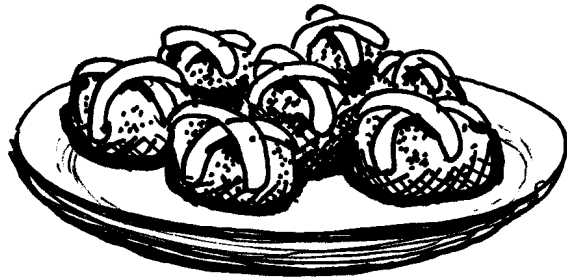

Before she bakes the buns, Mrs. James places crosses on top of the buns. The crosses are made from a mix of white flour and water.

3

After she bakes the buns, the buns are brown but the crosses stay white.

4

Mrs. James sets out the buns on a plate. When the buns are not too hot, she shares them with her friends.

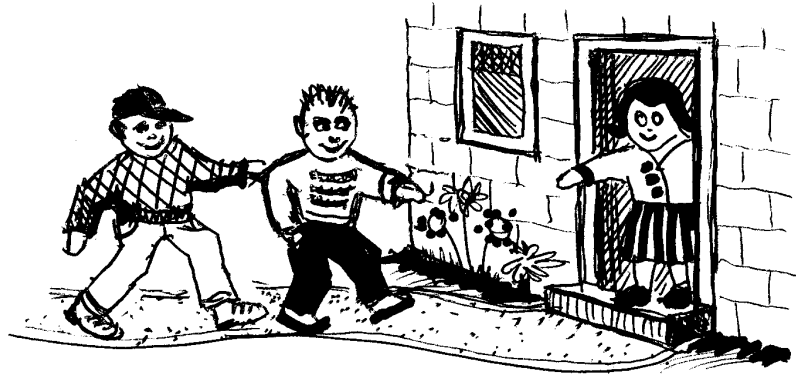

5

Sam and Tim are at the gate. They want to try some of Mrs. James' hot cross buns.

"Come in Sam and Tim," says Mrs. James.

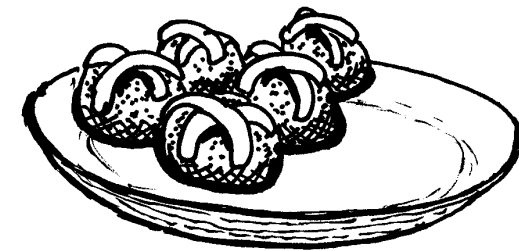

6

"Are we too late?" asks Tim.

"No," says Mrs. James. "Try my Hot Cross Buns. They taste quite nice."

7

Sam and Tim each take a bun from the plate. They take a bite. They taste VERY nice.

"Thank you, Mrs. James," they say.
"This is has been a good day!"

The Three Little Pigs

1

The three little pigs wanted to make houses. The first little pig made a house of straw.

2

The second little pig made a house of wood. The third little pig made a house of bricks.

3

The big bad wolf came to the house of straw. He wanted to get in. He huffed and puffed and tried to blow the house down.

4

The first little pig ran to the house of the second little pig. The big bad wolf came and tried to blow the second house down.

5

Both little pigs ran to the house of the third little pig. The big bad wolf tried to blow the third house down but he could not.

6

So the big bad wolf got on the roof and tried to come down the chimney.

7

The three little pigs had a pot of very hot water on the stove. The wolf fell into it. That was the end of the big bad wolf.
