

A goat in a boat

A story from England ... a long time ago

1

Sir Richard was a brave knight. He lived in a castle that had a moat around it.

2

When the bridge was up, the moat kept the enemies out.

3

Sir Richard had a pet goat. He wanted to take the goat across the moat to the green grass on the other side.

4

When the bridge was down, Sir Richard tried to take the goat across the bridge to the other side.

5

But the goat would not go. "I know," said Sir Richard, "I will put the goat in my boat and float across the moat."

6

The goat got into the boat. They went across the moat to the other side. The goat saw the green grass and jumped out of the boat.

7

It ran to eat the grass. But do you think Sir Richard could get the goat back in the boat?
