

A hot day for elephants

1

It was a hot day. The elephants were flapping their ears to cool off.

2

Baby Elephant said, "Mother, I am hot. I need a drink. I am going down to the river for some water."

Baby Elephant ran down to the river.

3

"Oh, no! There is no water to drink," said Baby Elephant. "I must tell Mother!"

Baby Elephant ran back to tell Mother Elephant.

“Mother, there is no water in the river!
What can we do?” asked Baby Elephant.

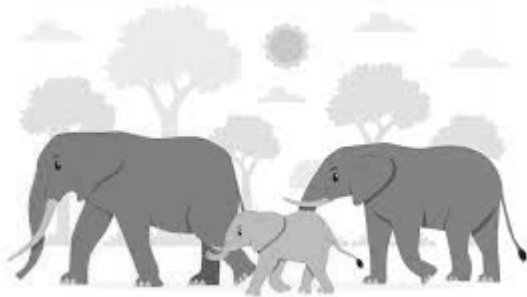

5

“We must tell Big Elephant,” said Mother.
“She will know what to do.”

They told Big Elephant about the river.

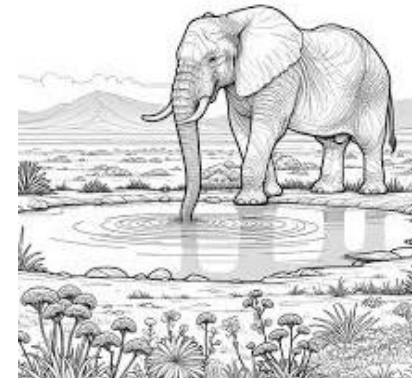

6

“Come with me,” said Big Elephant.
“There is a water hole a little way from here.
It will have water in it.”

All the elephants walked behind Big Elephant.
Soon they came to the water hole.

Yes, there was water to drink!

The elephants were very happy.
