

Visible Thinking (1)

1. What is your perception of this poster from the vantage point of this year?
2. How would readers have perceived this poster one hundred years ago?
3. Who would be affected by it?
4. Who is involved?
5. Who might care about its contents? Who would be interested in this poster?
6. If you were alive at the time this poster went up, what feelings would you experience if you were sympathetic to Lawlor and Black as legitimate revolutionaries? What would be your feelings if you were loyal to the queen and the establishment?
7. Think of some questions you would want to put to the outlaws and to William Haines.
8. If you were a church attending Christian at the time this went up, what would be your perspective and feelings?
9. Looking back from our present times, what would be the position of most Christians today on this incident and the poster that resulted from the uprising?
