

A Sea Garden

“Sarah! Isn’t it fun to be in God’s world? Isn’t it fun to be in this garden? It’s a garden by the sea. It’s a garden in God’s world.”

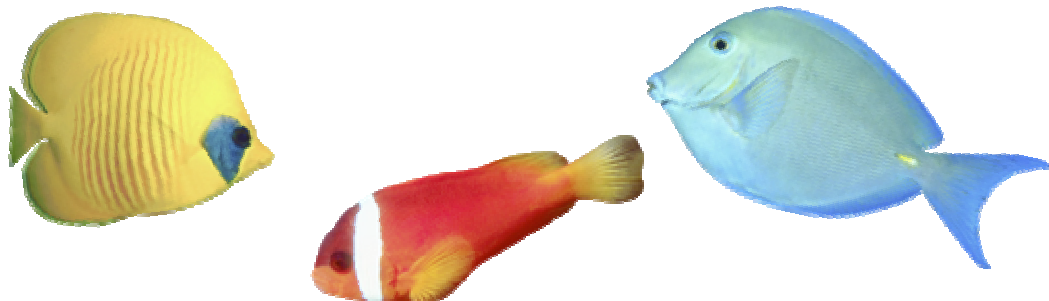

“Come on David. Let’s run. Let’s run down to the sand. Look at the sea. It is so blue. See the light of the sun on the sea. I’ll race you into the water. Come on, run!”

David and Sarah ran. They ran down to the sand. They jumped in to the water.

“Sarah, look into the water. What can you see?”

“I can see fish - one, two, three. One fish is red. The other two are blue and yellow. See how the fish shine in the sun-light.”

“Let’s get some food for the fish now.”

David and Sarah ran home to get the food.

“Mum, come with us! Come with us to see the fish.”

Mum went with the children to see the fish.

“God made the fish. He made the sea and sky and He made us,” said Mum.

David and Sarah sat by a little pool.

“David! Let’s find things that God has made. I see a starfish. What do you see?”

“I see rocks. I see seaweed on the rocks. Some seaweed is green. Some is brown and some is red!

“Look at that Sarah! That’s a little crab. It can run fast. Look! It has some food.”

“David, I can see three crabs and two starfish. The crabs can hide. They hide under the rocks.”

“Sarah, look at that one! God has made a little house for that crab. He has a house on his back!”
