

Rizzy Rat

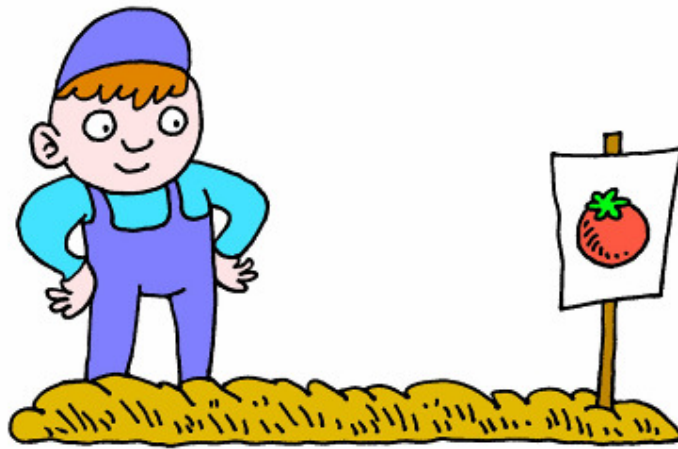

Sam wants to make a vegetable garden.
He digs and digs.

He drops in some seeds.
One row of green beans,

one row of orange pumpkins and one row of red tomatoes.

Here comes the rain.

Here comes the sun.

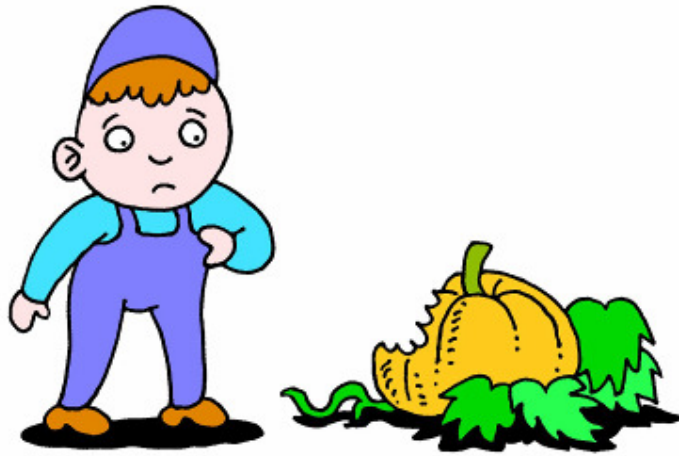

The little seeds grow into big plants. The vegetables are ready.

Sam picks the green beans.

Sam picks the red tomatoes.

But look at the pumpkins.
Something has been eating them!

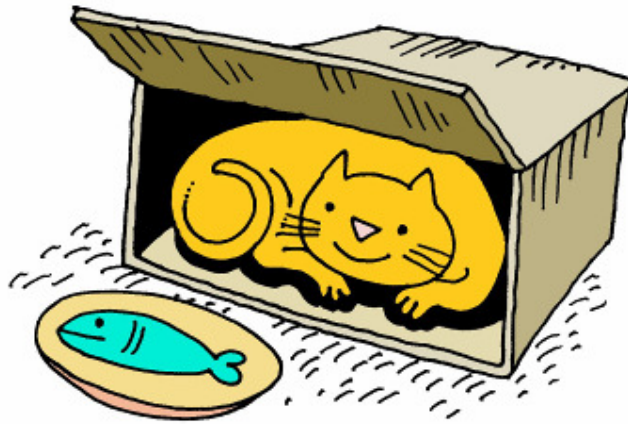

Sam sees little footprints.
It's Rizzy Rat!

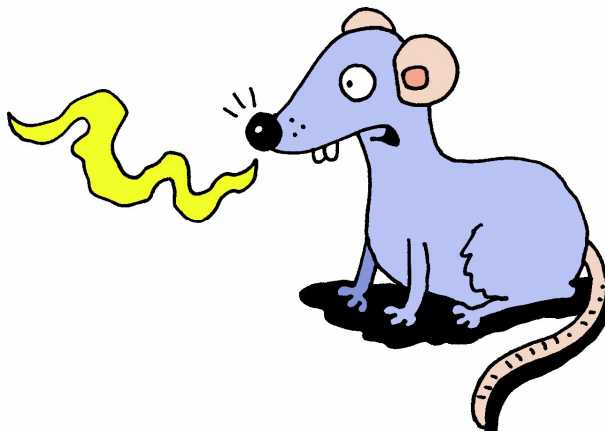

“I will get rid of that rat,” says Sam.
Sam gets Kitty Cat.

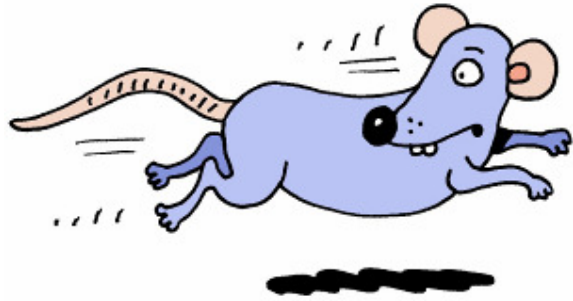

He gets a big box and makes a bed for Kitty.
He gets a cover to keep the rain off.

He gets a dish of fish for Kitty to eat.
“Here Kitty, you can sleep here,” says Sam.

That night Rizzy Rat comes to the garden to eat the pumpkins.
“I smell a cat!” he says.

Rizzy Rat runs away. He does not come back.
